TERRE HAUTE, IND.

CONVENTION DATE TO BE SET TONIGHT

DISTRICT CHAIRMAN JAMES L. RANDEL, AND COUNTY CHAIRMAN ARTHUR HAMRICK WENT TO TERRE HAUTE THIS AFTERNOON TO ATTEND MEETING OF DISTRICT COMMITTEE. TO SET TIME FOR CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

TO BE ON MARCH 28TH.

A meeting of the Democratic committee of the Fifth District will be held in Terre Haute this evening at which a date and place for holding the Congressional Convention of the district will be decided upon. The tentative plans of the committee is to hold the convention in Terre Haute, on Tuesday, March 24. It is probable that there will be no change in the plans and that the above place and date will be confirmed by the committee. However, there is some possibility of the convention being held in Greencastle.

District Chairman James L. Randel and County Chairman Arthur Hamrick went to Terre Haute this afternoon at 4 o'clock to attend the meeting. It now looks as though Congressman Ralph Moss would be the only candidate before the convention.

GREENCASTLE FOLKS ARE ENTERTAINED IN FLORIDA

The people who are rooming at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. May, 208 West South street, spent an enjoyable evening February 7th, it being the forty-eight anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Perkins, of Beverly, N. J. The friends gathered in the parlor and then Mr. and Mrs. Perkins were asked to come down, as they were told they had visitors. They were taken completely by surprise when entering the parlor, where congratulations were showered upon them by their hosts and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins were the recipients of some beautiful presents from the ladies of the house, the presentation speech being made by Mrs. Macy, who knows just how to do such things.

During the early hours of the evening fine music was furnished by Mrs. Macy and others.

Those present were: Mr. B. T. Perkins and wife, Beverly, N. J.; E. O. Vail and wife, Ocean Grove, N. J.; Chas. Simons and wife, Waterbury, Conn.; Edward Dalby and wife, Greencastle, Ind.; Byron Irwin, Greencastle, Ind.; John Roberts and wife, Chester, Pa.; J. S. BLIZZARD HINDERS TRAFFIC

ALL RAILROAD TRAINS RUNNING LATE AND INTERURBAN TRAFFIC UNCERTAIN AS RESULT OF SNOW AND WIND STORM TODAY—SEVERAL INCHES OF SNOW ON GROUND.

TRAINS ARE RUNNING LATE

All railroad trains were running late this morning, the through trains being as much as several hours late, because of the blizzard. The snow and wind also hindered interurban traffic, many of the cars running behind schedule.

Should the storm continue for the next twelve hours the railroads and interurban lines will be greatly hampered in keeping their trains moving on anything like schedule time.

In Greencastle the blizzard caused some little suffering among the poor people but no desperate cases were reported to the township trustee. The wind and snow kept everybody, who did not absolutely have to be out, in doors, however, and few people were down town during the day.

SNOW COMES WITH COLD WAVE

MERCURY REGISTERS 7 ABOVE ZERO DURING THE NIGHT—HEAVY FALL OF SNOW ACCOMPANIES FALL IN TEMPERATURE—TEN ABOVE ZERO AT 6 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

SLEIGHS WERE OUT TODAY

For the first time this season sleigh bells were heard tinkling today. A cold wave, accompanied by a heavy fall of snow, has held sway in Greencastle for the past twenty-four hours.

During Thursday night the temperature, according to the records kept by E. Shipley, reached a low point of 7 degrees above zero. At 6 o'clock this morning the temperature was 10 above zero. During the morning snow fell in such quantities that sleighing was made possible.

The snow, however, spoiled the skating on the ponds, which has been the sport of the younger folks for the past few days. Indications are that Greencastle will encounter some real winter during the next week or ten days.

THE ELKS' MINSTREL CAST MEETS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The meeting of the cast of the Elks' minstrel which will be staged at the Opera House in a few weeks, has been postponed from Saturday night to Sunday afternoon. The representatives of the dramatic firm, Miller & Draper, will not arrive in this city until late Saturday night. The meeting will be held in the club rooms at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Elks' committee, composed of Ernest Stoner, Neely O'Hair and Reese Matson are particularly anxious for the entire cast to be present for the first rehearsal. The Elks minstrels promises to be one of the best home talent plays that has ever been given in this city.

Miss Lessie Allee entertained a number of friends at her home on east Anderson street with a thimble party in honor of Miss Metta McCoy of Cloverdale this afternoon. About twenty guests were present. Light refreshments were served.

The fortieth anniversary of the Woman's Club will be observed at Woman's Hall Saturday and in addition to the afternoon program a dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

STARTS PLAN TO IMPROVE THE STREETS

PETITIONS ASKING THAT CITY THOROUGHFARES BE REBUILT UNDER THE THREE-MILE ROAD LAW, TO BE BEFORE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AT THEIR NEXT MEETING.

WOULD USE A BINDER

Petitions for the improvement of Greencastle streets under the three-mile gravel road law, are being circulated, in hopes that the streets may be improved during the coming year. Already one of these petitions has been filed with the county auditor and another is being circulated today.

The petitions ask that the streets be improved by rebuilding, the stone now on the streets to be used as a foundation for the new streets. They ask that a new surface of stone be put on and that an asphalt or tarvin binder be used in the building of the streets.

The cost of the improvement, under the three-mile road law, will be paid by the township, and not by the individual property owners. Both the county commissioners and city council must pass upon the petitions and grant them before the work can be done, however.

The petition which has been filed with the auditor, and which will be considered at the next meeting of the county commissioners, is the petition of Ferd Lucas and others. It asks that the improvement begin at the south end of Indiana street and come north to Walnut street, thence east to Vine street, thence north to Washington street and thence east to the city limits.

The other petition, which is being circulated today, asks that the improvement begin at the north end of Jackson street, thence south to Columbia street, thence west to Market street, thence south to Walnut street, thence east to Jackson street and thence south to the end of Jackson street.

DePAUW TRACK MEN WILL REPORT EARLY.

Although there is not a definite track schedule at the present time, DePauw will have two and probably three dual meets in preparation for the I. C. A. L. meet at Wabash in May. Wabash and Rose Poly have had meets with DePauw for several years and these schools are again booked for this spring. The third school is being kept secret, but rumor has it that Earlham is scheduled for a dual clash. The Quakers, as winners of last year's I. C. A. L. meet, are expected to again furnish strong opposition for state teams this year.

According to Track Captain Stoner, the call for candidates will be made the first of next week. With all but three of last year's team as a nucleus and 100 or more new candidates, the Methodist stock looks good for the coming season. The naming of a track coach is in the hands of the alumni athletic board and the man will be chosen within a short time.

Birthday Party.

Miss Dorothy Warner entertained a number of friends with a birthday party at her home on Anderson street Thursday night. Sixteen guests were present. The party was given in honor of her sixteenth birthday anniversary. Many beautiful presents were received by the hostess.

The guests participated in guessing contests and games during the evening. A beautiful calendar was presented to Gwin Ensign, who was the winner of a prize contest. The letters in the word Valentine were used to compose other words. The winner of the contest succeeded in making thirty-eight words using only the letters in the word Valentine.

Dainty refreshments of brick ice cream and cake were served. A small red heart was inserted in the white ice cream.

Minutes Mean Dollars IN TREATING ANIMALS

Countless you know the danger of delayed treatment of colic and other diseases. You also realize that the wrong application of remedies is often worse than inaction at all. In other words, not to diagnose a disease accurately may prove fatal. Every owner should be able to recognize an ailment and give correct treatment at the first symptoms. Prompt action is the great secret of treating horses.

Minutes mean dollars. Of course proper treatment is necessary. That is just how Humphrey's 50 page Veterinary Manual will prove a valuable to you. It is by F. Humphrey, M. D., V. S., and teaches how to diagnose and give proper treatment. This book will save you hundreds of dollars and costs you nothing. It will be sent absolutely free on request to any farmer in order to introduce Humphrey's Veterinary Remedies. Remember, it is absolutely free. You do not have to order any remedies to secure the book. Address, Humphrey's Homeopathic Medicine Company, 130 William Street, New York City. This is a splendid opportunity to obtain a veterinary treatise that you should have in your library. As a reference work you will find it invaluable. To have it in the time of need will be worth many dollars, whereas it will cost you but a few cents for writing for it now.

'FUNDAMENTAL SINS' SUBJECT OF FOURTH SERMON BY SHERIDAN

The old aphoristical group of man's besetting sins—"Wine, Women and Song"—was given a twist by Dr. Sheridan in his fourth sermon of the week's series in Meharry Hall Wednesday evening.

"The fundamental sins," said the doctor, "are wine, women—and the greed of gold."

Dr. Sheridan dealt promptly with the sin of money-grabbing, saying that man's purpose in life is far from being to amass $1,000,000. The evils of the saloon, gambling joint, and house of ill-repute received the bulk of his attention. Examples gathered from his life-long fight against these evils, were flung freely into his talk. The speaker is gifted in drawing figures of speech from nature to brighten his sermons. In declaring that the first careless step in the path of sin means a finish at the bottom, he added:

"At first it is like frost on the house-top; then it is a Siberian winter—that is the cumulative power of sin: the gathering power of sin." He explained further how invincibly our little unrepented misdeeds hedge us in and result in a catastrophe of sinning.

"Forgiveness of sin is given for penitence," was Dr. Sheridan's conclusion.

DR. GROSE CONTRIBUTOR TO THE METHODIST REVIEW

President George R. Grose will have an article in the March-April issue of the Methodist Review to be published in a few days. President Grose has furnished the magazine with a five thousand word biography of Frederick Denison Maurice, one of the foremost figures in the religious movements of the early part of the eighteenth century in England.

The Methodist Review is one of the best magazines of the church, being edited by Dr. William V. Kelley and is published at New York. Other contemporary contributors are Dr. Lynn Harold Hough of the Garrett Biblical Institute; Dr. John R. Shannon, professor in Boston university; and other men of recognized authority. This month's article is the sixth of President Grose's articles that the magazine has published.

The Girls' Glee Club will make its first appearance before a DePauw audience on the evening of the May Day Festival. FIFTY WOULD-BE DUZERS TO REND FRIDAY AIR WITH VOCAL CONTORTIONS

Great battles will be fought; glorious victories will be rehearsed; Shakespeare, Dickens and the rest will turn over in their graves tomorrow afternoon and night. Plato Hall will be the scene and Prof. Gough the stage director. No! It is not Frederick preparing for the state oratorical; merely DePauw's future drama interpreters trying out for Duzer Du. From the interest being shown, the elections presented by the candidates should be of a high class.

In an effort to convince the judges that they should be admitted to the club the candidates will mingle with Shakespeare and Dickens, will ride with Paul Revere and murder thousands of people. It was announced today that fifty men and women of the university would try out. The membership of Duzer Du is limited to twenty-five and at present there are nine members, leaving vacancies for sixteen people. The girls' tryouts are scheduled for the afternoon and those for the men in the evening.

SMITH ARRANGES FOR GYMNASIUM CLASSES.

Director "Speedy" Smith met the freshmen gym classes yesterday afternoon and arranged his schedule for the new semester.

Those who are going to take the regular gym work will be divided into two sections, one meeting between four and five o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays and the other between three and four on Wednesdays and Fridays. Smith will have charge of both classes and is to be assisted by George Birely, '17.

The boxing class will meet between four and five o'clock on Mondays and Fridays. This class is not to have more than twelve or fourteen members. LeRoy McLeod is to have charge of the boxers.

The cross country class will meet between four and five on Tuesdays and Thursdays. There are about twenty in this class. Pfeiffer is to assist in the cross country runs.

Those who wish to go out for track or baseball will have to take gym until the call for candidates is made.

PURDUE HOST FOR MAY MEET OF THINLY-CLADS FROM HOOSIER SCHOOLS

Purdue will be the host for the state track meet May 29th. It is expected that Purdue, Notre Dame, Indiana, Earlham, Rose Poly, Butler, Hanover, Wabash and Franklin will enter teams. Though it has not been definitely announced that DePauw will enter, it is known that the Old Gold management favors such a meet if the conditions governing it are favorable. The same is true of the other secondary colleges since they had no part in the making of plans, but were asked to compete.

The idea of holding a state track meet was originated by Coach Harper of Notre Dame. Since Notre Dame is not in the conference nor the I. C. A. L. Harper proposed this plan in order that his school could compete with the other state schools. His second reason was that the colleges of Indiana need a closer athletic relationship.

THE STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONVENTION. By G. C. McGown Princeton University.

This paper won the twenty-five dollar prize offered by The North American Student for the best 1,000 word "story" of the Volunteer Convention, written by one of the college journalists present at the conference held in Kansas City, December 31st, 1913, to January 4th, 1914. Dr. Talcott Williams, Director of the School of Journalism, Columbia University, very generously acted as judge in the contest.—Editor.

Five thousand delegates from institutions of learning in the United States and Canada gathered at Kansas City for a convention lasting from December 31 to January 4, in the interests of the Student Volunteer Movement. The gathering stood out as a living testimonial to the power of Christianity which was strong enough to draw these young people away from the good times at their homes during the holiday to "this mount of inspiration," as the meeting was often characterized in the addresses.

In addition to being a source of religious inspiration the convention in its effects showed that the age of miracles has not passed. Delegates there saw with their own eyes conversions of young men and women who had much to give and who, under the power of the dominant note of the whole period,—"the evangelization of the world in this generation,"—which is the motto of the Student Volunteer Movement, gave it up willingly. The work was done quietly and without undue emotion. The array of speakers included the best in the country,—all men with a message.

The emphasis was, of course, put on the need of men and women,—volunteers,—in the foreign fields; but the need at home, in Christian work and in the various professions, was not overlooked. The aim of the whole meeting was first of all to get the Christian's outlook.

Dr. John R. Mott presided over the public meetings, and also made two of the public addresses. Dr. Robert E. Speer, the associate with Dr. Mott in the Volunteer Student Movement in America, was one of the leaders, and among the other speakers were Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, Dr. S. M. Zwemer (who came all the way from Egypt expressly to present the needs of the Moslem World to the convention), Dr. Sherwood Eddy, an associate with Dr. Mott in the trip around the world in the interest of missions made during the past year. Public meetings occupied the morning and evening hours, while the afternoons were given over to sectional and denominational conferences.

In actual results the informal, the personal, and delegation meetings held at times convenient for those interested, accomplished the most. It was here that the power of God in transforming lives made itself visible in unmistakable manner.

In one group from one of the larger Eastern universities there was a young student who came to the final delegation meeting of the period, held on Sunday night following the big meeting. His impression of the convention and its power had not been favorable. He owned to being impressed by the "bigness" of the thing, but his own soul had failed to get its inspiration. He confessed to the need of men in the foreign fields, he saw the immediate character of the demand, but for him it had stopped there. The link connecting him with this need had not appeared. He came into this delegation meeting half discouraged. It came his turn to speak,—to tell frankly and plainly just what the convention had meant to him. There was a hesitating pause,—and then these simple sentences:

"Follows, I don't know what's the matter with me, haven't had tears in my eyes for ten years—not since one of my very dear friends died. But I can't keep them back tonight. I am all at sea. I want you to pray for me and with me. I am going to pray now and I want you to help me."

He dropped to his knees, and prayed in broken sentences to a God which lifted him up later a changed man,—with his outlook cleared completely.

At one of the luncheons, given jointly by two of the delegations, the subject under discussion in the after-dinner speeches was "Why I Volunteered to Go to the Foreign Field." There sat by the side of the chairman a young man from the East who had signed a "volunteer" card that morning, but his signature had failed to produce in him any enthusiasm. While the speeches were in progress the chairman leaned over and asked the chairman if he might speak. When he arose,—as he expressed it afterwards,—he "knew positively that I was not speaking but that it was someone speaking through me." This man had given up a future which promised him a medical study abroad for three years and a New York practice, had given up a big fortune which until that time he had planned to use for his own pleasure, and had set his will up against the will of his parents, who were very much opposed to his devoting his life to work in foreign missions.

Instances of this sort are being told by all the delegates to the convention. Christianity did not win in every case, however. There was a young Jew,—an orthodox Hebrew,—from an Eastern university also who went to the convention with a complete understanding of what the appeal was to be. He went at the request of the Christian society leader of his university to test out his Jewish faith and measure it with Christianity. He stuck it out for four days. He roomed with one of the strongest young Christian Volunteers, and the latter told after the young Jew had gone that some of the sessions which they had had together in the privacy of their room after others had gone to sleep were harrowing in their intensity. On Sunday morning the young Hebrew left quietly for home. He left a message for his fellows to this effect,—that he had given Christianity an honest and a fair trial; that he could agree with Christianity in all but one particular,—he could not accept the belief that Christ was the Son of God in body. On Saturday he had wired his family in the East,—"I have fought and I have won." In a spirit of prayer his fellows in the delegation thanked God that that young man had gone to Kansas City, and they returned to their alma mater with unstinted admiration and fellowship for him.

The atmosphere about the convention was charged with the spirit and influence of "service." The leaders requested the delegates to keep the "morning watch hour,"—a short time devoted to prayer and quiet communion. With this introduction of devotion the whole proceedings were in tune. The visible effects in their quantity were not startling, but the more quiet, although not less powerful in the lives which they touched, personal results are certain to be left in the universities to which these thousands of delegates returned, and through them later on in the Christianization of the world.—The North American Student.

This New York relative of the millionaire Gould family described as a "few trifles" $25 worth of goods which the customs officials informed her they intended to confiscate unless she would pay duty on them.

The "few trifles" consisted of one gown and wrap, one gold mesh bag, one gold cigarette case, one lace waist, several pieces of costly china and some other articles.

When Mrs. Hamilton arrived the goods were seized. She can recover them if she pays the duty; otherwise the customs officials will hold them.

Headcheese

This derives its name from the fact that it is usually made from the head of pork, as the farmer has little other use for this portion of the porker. But usually, too, such cheese is composed of chunks of fat and gristle that are disliked by many people. Although pork is high-priced, it will be more economical to purchase a fresh shoulder and four fresh pigs' hocks (the upper part of the leg), and to reserve part of the shoulder for boiling or baking. Wash the hocks in cold water and wife off the shoulder with a damp cloth; then cut into chunks and cook slowly, in just enough water to cover, until the meats fall from the bones. Set in a cold place for twelve hours, but do not allow it to freeze. When hard, remove the iron and set away to become soft. Use for frying potatoes, onions or cabbage, and cut the cheese into slices. The lower part of the legs and feet may be used, if it is preferred to pickle the hocks.

Scrapple

Use the scraps of fresh pork and beef, cutting them up finely, and reserving the fat for making drippings. Boil the meat slowly until tender in just enough water to cover. When the meat is tender season with salt, pepper, minced parsley and a little summer savory, and then stir enough yellow cornmeal into the boiling mixture to make a stiff mush. Cook for ten or twenty minutes, pour into a greased pan and set away to become cold. Cut into slices and fry. This may be made of cooked remnants and gravy, and cooking is then unnecessary, excepting when mush is added.

Why all this excitement about the extermination of the poor little house-elf, when there are eight million bactels in the United States who ought to be either converted or exterminated before the contagion spreads?

Making a husband out of a man is a labor of love, art, sculpture, sleight of hand and common sense all rolled together, and even then you sometimes have to use mental science to persuade yourself that you've succeeded.

It is an awful shock to a married man to discover that his wife has so little sense of humor that she believes all he tells her.

The man who considers the love name a little insecure is apt to find the marriage ties a little insecure.

Nothing pays a bigger dividend on a small investment than politeness.

The young man, handsome, tall, tall, handsome, leaned across the table hesitatingly.

It was though what he was about to say required a courage he did not possess.

The beautiful girl smiled encouragingly into his eyes. There was a moment of suspense, and then the young man sighed deeply. Ahhhhh! Ahhhhhhh! He sighed deeply twice, the second time more so, if anything.

At length the words came: "Darling," he besought, "don't ask for dessert. Eat more bread!"

WHOLE-WHOLE BREAD.
One tablespoon lard or cottolene, one tablespoon sugar, one cup each boiling water and hot (not boiling) milk, yeast cake dissolved in one-half cup warm water, one cup white flour, or enough to make soft dough. Mix, knead for ten minutes, cover, and let it rise in a warm temperature to twice its first bulk. Make into small loaves, place in greased pans, let rise an hour or until puffy, and bake.

OPENING AN OBSTINATE JAR.

The best way to open a fruit jar is to invert the top of the jar into hot water, taking care that the water is not deep enough to touch the glass. The principle is to expand the metal top and then open as usual. A metal top or two is sufficient. Should it remain too long the glass also would be expanded.

"No, Harold, I think not," she said, puzzled. "Your hair is cut the same way, and it can't be that you had your mustache shaved off, for there it is under your beard."

"And you don't notice it?" he said, a trifle bitterly. "I should think, Enogene, that if you loved me as much as I love you, you would notice it." And he smiled.

"Tell me, Edward," she said, at length. "Tell me what it is."

"It is my shoe," he said. "I saw one shoe around to be peeled, so I had to come this evening with only one shoe on."

"Oh, Harold," she cried, "of course I noticed that. I didn't say anything because I thought it might embarrass you!"

He kissed her fondly.

USING MAYA'S STOMACH REMEDY

Charles Inman Able to Go to Work After Operation Was Advised.

Charles Inman, 424 East Chestnut street, Hartford City, Ind., was desperately ill. He was advised to go to Fort Wayne for an operation.

Then he took Maya's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and in a short time was able to go back to work. In a letter he said:

"My disease started seven years ago. I had to give up and go to bed. Four doctors said they could not cure me unless I went to Fort Wayne to be operated on, and that it would cost $150 to $250. My daughter saw your advertisement and I took your treatment. In three weeks I went to work and haven't missed but one-half day since from sickness. It surely saved my life."

Similar stories of health restored are told in letters from people all over the United States. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is known everywhere. The first dose proves no long treatment.

FOREST NOTES.

Dr. C. D. Marsh of the federal bureau of plant industry is delivering a series of illustrated lectures to the stockmen in the west on the subject of plants poisonous to stock.

The Biltmore forest school, established in 1898 and therefore the oldest forest school in America, has been discontinued. Dr. C. A. Schenck, its director, has returned to his home in Germany.

The forest service is compiling a new volume table for calculating the board contents of standing western yellow pine trees in the southwest. It is based on actual measurements of 6,000 trees.

In trying to find uses for blight-killed chestnut it has been found that it can not be utilized for crating stone; quarry owners say that chestnut wood leaves an indelible stain on the marble or granite.

Railroads caused nearly half the forest fires in Colorado and Wyoming last year, and almost one-sixth were set by lightning. In California lightning started more than half, with railroads a comparatively insignificant cause.

The Player Piano To BUY

The value of a Player Piano is in its ability to express music your way.

In the Manualo the power of expression is built into the instrument from the ground work up. It is an essential part of the player and through it you are able to get all the effects of hand playing—it plays the piano your way.

The Manualo pedals so lightly you are not conscious of any physical exercise.

This is because of the short rounded air passages which make the air fingers practically in direct connection with the pedaling.

The Manualo is Found Only in the Baldwin Line of Pianos.
